

Legislature Is Urged to Probe Arkansas PSC

By BRYCE B. MILLER

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Rep. Hardy W. Croxton of Benton county today urged the Arkansas House to investigate the Public Service Commission, certain state officials and large Arkansas utilities.

"During the past two or three years, the Public Service Commission has made certain rulings and facts that give rise to suspicion, and consequently a large number of people of this state have lost faith in this tribunal," Croxton said.

"His proposed investigation, he said, was just as much to protect the Public Service Commission and other high state officials as it was to establish the 'veracity of such allegations.'"

"If they are not substantially true, then they should be dispelled and the integrity of the PSC protected," he said.

Croxton introduced a House resolution the first day of the session calling for the investigation. Earlier today, the House Rules Committee said that a standing committee of the House could not conduct such an investigation under present House rules. It said also that there was not enough time or money to make the probe.

Croxton's resolution also asked for an investigation of the "manner and methods" by which the public utilities.

The House recessed shortly after noon, and scheduled debate on Croxton's resolution as the first order of business when it resumed at 1:45 p.m.

The rules committee report today, signed by Rep. Carroll Hollensworth of Bradley County, said such a standing committee as proposed for the investigation cannot have the investigative powers asked for in the resolution under rules of the House.

Methodists Plan Week of Dedication

Lloyd Spencer, chairman of the official board of the First Methodist Church, announced today that plans had been completed for a Week of Dedication and Revival Service during the period from February 27th through March 10th.

The principal speaker for this period will be Bishop Ivan Lee Holt. Bishop Holt will be in Hope from February 27th through March 4th. Mr. Spencer said, "We are very fortunate to have a man of Bishop Holt's caliber to visit Hope. He has reached the highest possible pinnacle in Methodism."

He is the immediate past president of the Methodist World Council with over 40,000,000 members, and has just recently returned from a world trip to mission fields in India. Mr. Spencer continued, "I am sure that everyone in this vicinity will want to mark these dates on their calendars so as not to miss these interesting lectures."

The inspirational music for the entire period will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulwider. Mr. Fulwider is Minister of music in the First Methodist Church in Austin, Texas. He has produced several outstanding choirs that have achieved nation-wide acclaim.

Other speakers during this period will be Dr. Cecil Culver, of El Dorado, Ark., Dr. William E. Brown, Texarkana, Ark., Francis A. Buddin, Camden, Ark., Rev. R. B. Moore, District Superintendent of the Hope District, and Rev. Arthur Terry, District Superintendent of the Little Rock District.

The Week of Dedication and Revival Service is jointly sponsored by the Commission on Missions, and the Commission on Membership and Evangelism of the First Methodist Church of Hope.

Bill Would Impose Sales Tax in Border Cities

Blocked Canal Aids Sales of Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators said today that Egyptian President Nasser's blockade of the Suez Canal is helping world sales of surplus American cotton.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) said in an interview that continuation of the program of past cotton surplus sales through another marketing year "might permit sales of up to a half-million bales of cotton in place of that which formerly moved through Suez."

ALC Cautions About Adding to Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roads should be added to the state highway system "only after thorough study and consideration by the state Highway Commission," the Arkansas Legislative Council's Committee on Roads and Highways said today.

"Roads of purely local benefit should be the responsibility of local government," the committee said, and it is "not feasible to incorporate all county roads into the state system."

The committee report released today, was compiled Dec. 5, several weeks before the Legislature convened. About 20 bills have been introduced in the Legislature that would add various county roads to the state system.

The committee recommendations were signed by Rep. Marion Crank of Little River County. Crank is chairman of the Legislative Council committee and a member of the House Roads and Highways Committee.

Russia Resumes Sending Arms Into Egypt

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia reported today to have resumed arms shipments to Egypt in recent weeks in what appears to be a move to rebuild President Nasser's battered armed forces.

Top American officials who disclosed this today said, however, they could not be sure whether the shipments represent a new purchase or additional deliveries under a 250-million-dollar contract disclosed in September 1955. There have been rumors, but no confirmation, of a second such deal.

The officials said they have evidence of deliveries of medium tanks, artillery, personnel carriers and probably jet fighters. These weapons are understood to have been unloaded in crates from Communist ships amid great secrecy, mainly at the Egyptian port of Alexandria.

The new shipments all have arrived since the Mideast fighting ended three months ago. Any new Soviet arms shipments to Egypt would be a violation of a United Nations Assembly cease-fire resolution, adopted Nov. 1, which called on all countries to refrain from introducing new war materials into the Middle East area.

Nasser's acceptance of additional Soviet arms would be almost certain to add to Middle East tension at this time.

American authorities have been unable thus far to determine how much Soviet equipment has been delivered since the fighting ended. They agreed that the new shipments thus far are not nearly as big as the original 250-million-dollar order.

President Asked for Inflation Control Program

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A revision in border city exemptions from the state sales tax is heading for the Arkansas Senate.

Sen. Roy Riales of Mena said today he planned to propose an amendment to the recently passed sales tax increase bill that would exempt border city sales tax only on items costing up to $50.

Texarkana and possible Fort Smith would be affected by the amendment.

The present sales tax exemption for border cities directs that eligible cities are those divided from a city in another state only by the state line.

Texarkana, with the Arkansas-Texas state line running through the middle of town, definitely is in the category. Fort Smith is adjacent to Akoma, Okla., which is an incorporated town.

Merchants in Texarkana are exempted from the sales tax to permit them to compete with merchants in Texas, which has no sales tax.

Fort Smith merchants have continued to charge a 2 per cent sales tax because Oklahoma also has a 2 per cent tax.

The Legislature recently voted to increase the state sales tax in Arkansas from 2 to 3 per cent.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) of Senate Banking Committee, who has supported the administration's "tight money" policy, said the country might have to go to more direct controls — particularly on consumer credit — if inflationary pressures grow.

"As a practical matter, though," he said, "Congress is not likely to do anything unless the President makes some specific recommendations."

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee said that if Eisenhower is worried about inflation, the President could do something about it himself.

He could stop this excessive government spending by cutting his own budget just as he cut Truman's budget by nine billion dollars in 1953," Byrd said.

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of all GOP Senators, said the question of controls had not been discussed in the regular weekly meetings of Republican leaders with the President. He said he knew of no imminent message to Congress on this subject.

"Although I favored standby controls, I would be slow to vote for any new controls," Saltonstall said.

Eisenhower said he wasn't asking business and labor to be "altruistic" in holding wage and price increases within limits.

"Their own long-term good is mahoney said, "and I am asking them merely to act as enlightened Americans."

He said when the government begins to control prices, allocations and wages "then it is not the America we know."

Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he doesn't believe voluntary controls will work. He said they had failed under former President Hoover in 1929.

"Any business, although it may be guided by men of the best of good will, has its principal interest in profits," he said. "There are not going to be any voluntary reductions in those profits."

Sen. Gore (D-Ten.) said he doesn't see any need for controls at this time.

Soud Trying to Unify Arab Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia continues today negotiations with other Arabs aimed at unifying the Arab world.

Saud, standing by for a final meeting tomorrow with President Eisenhower, has been holding long and at times detailed talks with representatives of the other Arab nations.

His goal long has been to unify the Arab nations so they can speak with one voice in such fields as foreign policy. If that day comes, it might well mean the end of Arab bickering which has interfered with attempts to solve Mideast problems. It might even bring Arab-Israeli peace, and it is a prime target of U. S. foreign policy.

Saud met for 1½ hours yesterday in Iraq, and has talked also with the Washington ambassadors of other Arab nations.

Marines Again Complain of Treatment

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Marine authorities at this recruit depot are probing charges by several recruits that they have been mistreated by drill instructors in their platoon.

A Marine spokesman said last night that four drill instructors, all assigned to the same platoon, have been removed from instruction duty.

Two of the instructors, the spokesman said, have been accused of striking recruits during training maneuvers.

The source said the investigation will determine whether formal charges will be placed against any of the instructors.

The spokesman said a preliminary probe was started about four weeks ago after Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, the base commander, received an anonymous letter, citing possible cases of maltreatment.

The letter was reportedly sent by Nelson R. Porter of Hartford, Vt., whose son, David L. Porter, was among the recruits making the accusations. The elder Porter was reported on route here.

The drill instructors were not identified.

The New York Times and New York Daily News, in dispatches from Parris Island quoted the elder Porter as saying his son had been struck on the head with a steel bar.

The Times quoted Col. Robert Vance, chief of staff of the Recruit Training Command, as saying: "There is no evidence to indicate the young Porter was struck with a steel bar. We have nothing to substantiate any such statement. Several boys were struck over a period of several days. None of the recruits were hospitalized."

The News quoted Capt. James F. Mahoney as saying: "It has not been established how Porter was struck or that he had been struck with an instrument." Mahoney, the News reported, said other recruits charged that drill instructors had "struck them with their hands," and Porter was the only one claiming he had been hit with an instrument.

This Marine depot was catapulted into the national spotlight last April when six recruits drowned in a night disciplinary march into a bay swamp.

Sgt. Matthew C. McKoon of Worcester, Mass., the drill instructor who ordered the march, was court-martialed, reduced in rank, fined and spent some time in prison.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Arkansas Senate today were guests at a breakfast here, with the men featuring northwest Arkansas-produced chicken and ham. Hosts were Sens. Russell Elrod of Siloam Springs and Clinton Wade of Fayetteville.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — National Lead Co. and Malvern Brick Co. have signed new 3B contracts for natural gas service in Arkansas.

Louisiana Gas Co., a gas company spokesman said today.

The Ark-La spokesman said the new pacts will be submitted to the state Public Service Commission for approval today or tomorrow.

The contracts, according to previous statements by Pine Bluff attorney Gordon Young, contain specific non-preferential clauses similar to one inserted in a contract Aluminum Company of America signed recently with Ark-La.

Young said the National Lead and Malvern Brick contracts are "the opposite of preferential," providing that no 3B customers — large industries — will receive preference over any other 3B customer should a gas reduction become necessary. An exception is the gas combustion engines operated by Reynolds Metals Co. at the Jones Mills reduction plant.

Man Backs Down on Threat to Jump

DENVER (PA) 23-year-old man kept a crowd of 1,000 guessing for an hour last night before he quit threatening to jump from the top of a nine-story downtown building.

He told police he was Robert R. Carson Jr. of Denver and a Korean War veteran. Friends said he was heartbroken over a romance.

Police officers and a priest joined in pleading with him not to jump.

Carson, coatless and hatless, shivered in the freezing weather as he perched on a foot-wide ledge of the building.

Traffic was blocked off on the street below. Searchlights played on Carson while the officers and the priest repeatedly urged:

"You are a young man. You have so much to live for—this is no way to act. Face up to life."

Carson finally allowed "detectives to walk up to him."

The second manganese mining on record was in the Batesville, Arkansas region between 180 and 1832.

Franchise to Oaklawn Race Track Okayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Bills which would grant a perpetual horse racing franchise to Oaklawn Jockey Club at Hot Springs and would double driver license fees were passed yesterday by the Senate with heavy majorities.

The horse racing measures introduced by Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, would give Oaklawn a franchise as long as it abided by state laws. Under present law, bids are taken on the franchise every 10 years.

The bill would permit construction of horse racing tracks in other counties only with voter approval in a local election. The track would have to cost at least three million dollars.

Oaklawn has operated racing at the Hot Springs track since the sport was legalized in the mid-1920s. Hurst said a permanent franchise would enable Oaklawn to make long-range plans and could be changed by the Legislature any time.

The bill's major opponent, Sen. C. E. Yingling of Searcy, said Arkansas had "disgraced itself by adopting an amendment to permit horse racing in Garland County."

"If racing is good for Garland, it should be good for the remainder of the state," Yingling said.

The bill passed 27-4 and goes to the House. Voting against it were Sens. Yingling, Sam Levine and Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff and Guy Jones of Conway.

The driver license measure, already passed by the House, goes to Gov. Orval Faubus, who had endorsed it strongly. It passed 34-0 after Director Herman Lindsey of the Arkansas State Police spoke to the Senate.

Lindsey repeated previous statements by administration leaders that the bulk of the estimated $750,000 additional revenue from the proposed $2 fee would be used to hire 97 additional state highway patrolmen and to establish a bureau to administer driver tests. The current license fee is $1.

Sen. Ellis Fagan of Little Rock had questioned the necessity of a 100 per cent increase.

"I have capitulated," he said yesterday.

The State Police budget also calls for $300 annual salary raises for men in the lowest pay bracket. Sen. Jerry Serection of Hazen suggested that $600 raises would be in order.

The Senate voted supplemental appropriations totaling about $14,000 for the Public Service Commission, Cosmetology Board and Social Security Division until June 30.

Senate introductions yesterday included: A proposed constitutional amendment to create a Board of Education free from direct influence of the governor or Legislature.

Moscow Makes Latest Charge of Spying

MOSCOW (AP) The Madison Avenue treatment has been applied with a heavy hand to Moscow's newest spy charge.

With television cameras trained on elaborately prepared stage settings, the Foreign Ministry presented a three-hour espionage activity claim against the United States. Featured were four live "spies."

L. F. Ilyichev, head of the Foreign Ministry press department, conducted the lengthy presentation before a news conference attended by some 200 Soviet and foreign reporters. Televised and broadcast live for the Moscow area, it also was filmed for later showings elsewhere in the Communist bloc.

Ilyichev charged the United States is carrying on an unprecedented espionage campaign that amounts to secret war against the Soviet Union and other Communist nations. Such action, he declared, makes the United States guilty of "gross interference in the home affairs of sovereign nations."

Charges detailed included operation of spy schools in West Germany, regular violation of Soviet air space and smuggling agents into the Soviet Union.

On a long table in front of the Foreign Ministry spokesman was a collection of what he called American spy equipment. It included portable radio transmitters and receivers, maps, forged documents, cameras and poison capsules. The poison, it was said, was to be swallowed if the agents were captured.

For a clincher Ilyichev introduced the four "spies" he said had been slipped into Soviet territory by the U. S. intelligence service.

Reading from prepared statements under the glaring TV lights, the four told stories of falling into the spy business through U. S. inducements that included drinking, gambling, swearing and visits to houses of prostitution.

The four identified themselves as Nikolai I. Yakuta, Mikhail P. Kudrayanov, Adam L. Novikov and Konstantin I. Khmelitsky.

They said they fell into German hands during World War II, began working for U. S. intelligence agencies in postwar Germany and were trained by U. S. espionage schools there.

Wise to Draft

The National Guard is objecting to a new order that all its new enlistees must take six months of basic training. The Guard favors limiting this to 11 weeks for its recruits under 18½, the minimum draft age.

Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson told the subcommittee in prepared testimony the Army National Guard had a net loss in enlisted men of 2,050 from July 1 through Dec. 31, 1956, "compared to a net gain of 14,891 for the corresponding period" of 1955. Erickson is chief of the Defense Department's National Guard Bureau.

The net effect of these changes would be to reduce the potential amount of money the department's Commodity Credit Corporation would have to put up to carry out price commitments to producers.

Benson's reason for lowering support prices for grain—oats, barley, grain sorghums as well as corn—would be to reduce the incentive for heavy production of these crops at a time when supplies and surpluses are the largest of record.

The secretary has proposed to support corn at $1.31 a bushel under a new soil bank allotment program pending before Congress. This compares with $1.50 for last year's crop grown on farms complying with the government control program.

Last year's rate represented 84.3 per cent of parity while this year's level would be about 73 per cent.

Last year's crops of other feed grains such as oats, barley and grain to be supported at 76 per cent of parity—$1.02 a

Benson Soon to List Farm Support

WASHINGTON — Secretary Agriculture Benson will announce soon a broad list of farm product price support rates for 1957 which would reduce the government's financial liability in underwriting farmers' markets.

Somewhat lower rates than last year are expected for livestock and feed grains and oilseed crops, but little if any changes in floors under milk and dairy products and cotton.

The net effect of these changes would be to reduce the potential amount of money the department's Commodity Credit Corporation would have to put up to carry out price commitments to producers.

Benson's reason for lowering support prices for grain—oats, barley, grain sorghums as well as corn—would be to reduce the incentive for heavy production of these crops at a time when supplies and surpluses are the largest of record.

in the brig after sentencing. There have been other instances here of drill instructors reduced in rank and fined for maltreatment of recruits.

At the San Diego, Calif., Marine recruit depot, a spokesman disclosed yesterday that a drill instructor there was broken from corporal to private first class, relieved of his duties and ordered transferred to another base for striking a recruit.

The spokesman said E. M. Logue, 21, of Atlantic, Iowa, struck the recruit, Pvt. Richard Rezende, 17, of Hayward, Calif., twice in the stomach Jan. 28 during an interview about the recruit's military proficiency.

This year's rates are expected to be set somewhere between 65 and 70 per cent of parity for these grains.

COMPARE

and you'll choose
CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA

More than anything else, when spring growth begins, small grain needs an ample supply of fast-acting nitrate nitrogen. And that means Chilean Nitrate of Soda. The nitrogen in it is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen—fast-acting and ready to help the hungry crop through its most difficult period and push it ahead.
More than 100 years of consistently satisfactory experience with Natural Chilean Soda have demonstrated that there is nothing to compare with it for top-dressing small grain. It is a rare natural combination of nitrate nitrogen, sodium and minor elements. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate nitrogen—ready to work, rain or shine, as soon as it's applied. This is especially important because at top-dressing time every moment counts. There is nothing like nitrate nitrogen for a small grain crop—and there is no source of nitrate nitrogen that can compare with Natural Chilean Soda.
Then, there's the sodium and minor elements. Sodium, particularly, adds much to the value and effectiveness of Chilean Soda. It conserves the supplies of magnesium, potash and calcium in the soil and substitutes for calcium and potash, if necessary. It increases the supply of available phosphate. Every ton of Chilean contains sodium equivalent to 650 pounds of commercial limestone to destroy soil acidity and correct acid-forming effects of ammonia nitrogen. This explains why regular, systematic use of Chilean Soda helps so much to maintain a favorable pH level for the production of top yields of top-quality crops.
If you have any question about the top-dressing for your small grain crop this year, we urge you to try Natural Chilean Soda, if only in a small way to begin with, and see the difference for yourself. You'll find it is the most economical and satisfactory nitrate nitrogen fertilizer you can buy for top-dressing your small grain crops.

DOROTHY DIX

More Activities Needed
for Unattached Oldsters

Dear Dorothy Dix: So many lonely, older women write you for advice, and while the suggestions you make are good in their way, they aren't good enough. What we need is masculine companionship. We want to belong to someone.
Churches should set up an active director to scout the town and have sociables for unattached men and women. There is so much activity in churches for young folks; why don't they consider us oldsters, too? I am sure there must be many older men who would appreciate the companionship of a kind, good woman.

MRS. R. K.
Dear Mrs. R. K.: You have the nucleus of a good idea—increased activity for senior citizens in churches. This would fall of its ultimate aim—to find a man for every eligible older woman. There just aren't enough men in this age group to meet the demand.
Look around you, at your neighborhood, church or place of business. How many unattached women do you find? How many unattached men? Furthermore, the situation is not a problem for the older man. He can easily find companionship and matrimony if he desires it.
However, the outlook is not completely bleak. Someone has to land the older bachelor or widower, and it might be you!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I like my brother's friend very much. Trouble is he thinks of me only as his friend's kid sister. I'm not too young, either, as he goes around with other girls my age.

BRENDA
Dear Brenda: Ask your brother to arrange a double date with his friend. When you go out, make a special effort not to be the kid sister. Change your hair-do, wear something distinctive in color or style. If you always appear in flats at home, wear high heels. Be charming, show an interest in his activities and you have a good change of awakening his interest.

Dear Dorothy Dix: In the three years of our marriage, my wife has left me four times. She doesn't want the responsibility of our two children. I love her and want her

This Is Year to Cull, Weed Your Trees

In view of the bumper seed crop, this year will be ideal for deadening and poisoning cull and weed trees, according to George F. Brown of the Soil Conservation Service.

Back, What can I do?
Dear B. H.: The next time your wife comes back, or you persuade her to return, seek the advice of a marriage counselor. Family Service Association or any of its affiliated agencies will help you. Your wife is immature and needs guidance to help her accept responsibility Good luck.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'd like to know what a wife should do when her husband beats her. I would leave him but I love him very much.

MIRIAM
Dear Miriam: You should not only leave him, but have him arrested. Of course, you'll do neither, since you love the brute. You'd probably miss the beatings if they stopped. However, for a man with jungle instincts, the best cooling-off place is the cooler.

vice.
Pine seed taking two years to ripen had good pollination last spring. In spite of the drought there is now a bumper crop of one-year-old burrs. By October these burrs will open to give one of the best seed crops Arkansas has had in over five years.
In view of the coming seed crop there is more reason to girdle and poison cull and weed trees. This operation will make room for the falling pine seed which will germinate in March and April of next year. Farmers and woodland owners interested in this timber stand improvement program should see George F. Brown of the Soil Conservation Service.
Also if you are interested in planting trees this next fall you should get your order in now to the trees as there may be a short age of trees.

Army Thinks Well of Short Training

WASHINGTON Congress got an Army opinion today that a young man gets as much useful military training in eight weeks of full-time duty as in two years of weekly drills and summer camps.

Brig. Gen. Creighton W. Abrams gave the opinion as the Army pressed its case for requiring 6 months of active duty training for all new enlistees in the National Guard. No formal training period is now required of guardsmen.

Abrams, deputy assistant chief of staff for reserve components, prepared his testimony for a

Engineers Explain Bayou Meto Progress

ALTHEIMER, (AP) Jefferson County officials and landowners heard Army Engineers from the Vicksburg, Miss., district explain progress on the comprehensive development of the Bayou Meto basin yesterday.

The session was the first of four organizational meetings affecting a 6-county area.

H.H. Harvill of Humphrey, chairman of a steering committee for a proposed Bayou Meto Basin Development Assn., said Rep. Norrell (D-Ark.) had notified him that $50,000 in planning funds was approved in Washington.

Planning committees were appointed for Pulaski, Jefferson,

Arkansas, Prairie, Lonoke and Faulkner counties.

Harvill said a meeting for residents of Arkansas County and part of Prairie County would be held Thursday afternoon at Stuttgart. Two additional meetings will be held next week at Lonoke and Jacksonville, he said, with Army Engineers scheduled to speak at all the sessions.

Joey Admits That He Was Overconfident

CHICAGO (AP)—The 5-1 odds went to Joey Giardello's head last night. Joey, the overwhelming favorite, was lucky to get a split 10 round decision over Randy Sandy in a televised bout at Chicago stadium.

Under the five-point system of scoring, Referee Walt Brightmore sentation by United Shoe Workers Judge Frank McAdams favored him 47-45. Judge Frank Clark called it for Sunday, 47-46. The AP card had it 48-46 for Giardello. "I just didn't have in my mind that this would be a tough fight," Joey said. "I read the papers that Sandy wasn't much—and I read where I was a 4-1, 5-1 favorite. I just got overconfident."

Giardello outweighed his swarming foe 159½ to 157½. He staggered Sandy for the first time with a right to the head in the ninth. Both leveled off in the 10th, and in one tangle both plopped through the ropes onto the ring apron. The referee counted to seven before they got back in and squared off again.

Giardello may have another fight, possibly a rematch with Sandy, before the International Boxing Club puts him up in March for the winner of the Spider Web-Neal Rivers bout Feb. 15 in New York.

At stake is a title shot in June against Gene Fullmer or Ray Robinson. Fullmer will defend his middleweight title in a rematch with Robinson at Chicago Stadium April 24.

Athletics Are Now Aiming at 5th Place

By LOU BOUDREAU
Kansas City Manager HARVEY, Ill., (AP) We have set our sights on fifth place. That is our goal for 1937.

We had numerous disappointments last year, namely pitching, catching and a good second base combination. We were also handicapped by recurrent injuries and players who failed to live up to expectations. And yet, as bad as we were, I don't think there is any doubt that we have made improvement. I must admit the progress has been slow. We knew it would be slow when we started.

We now have in Hal Smith, the best catcher we have had since the club moved to Kansas City. Our outfield has been strengthened with the addition of Bob Cerv, Jim Pisoni and Lou Skizas.

In Cerv we have added more power and I think in our ball park he will hit 25 home runs. He batted .304 with the Yankees but never had a chance to play regularly with them. Pisoni is a rookie who can make it in center. I'm not worried about Skizas. He'll hit. So will Harry Simpson.

Pitching is still our problem but we've improved it and this could be an interesting year. We will have 22 pitchers in camp at West Palm Beach. Among those who will help are Ned Carver, Lou Kretlow, Gene Brunet, Virgil Trucks and George Brunet. We also have Art Ditmar and Wally Burnette who should be among our best this year. Then there's Alex Keller and Bobby Shantz. Carver can win 10 or 12 games for us if his arm is as sound as we believe. It is my opinion that Keller and Shantz will have very good years. They, too, have been bothered by sore arms. Our reports on Host and Ed Blake, two newcomers, tell us that they will improve our pitching very much.

Says Hot Rod to Become a Great Pro

NEW YORK (AP)—Which will it be? Hot Rod the basketball player—or Hot Rod the clown?

Coch Joe Lapchick says it'll be a case of some of each when Rod Hundley finishes up at West Virginia and goes to work for one of the pro basketball clubs in the NBA. Lapchick, who has completed cycle of college coach to pro coach and back to college coach, recently took his St. John's University Redmen of Brooklyn to Morgantown, W. Va., for a game with Hundley and the Mountaineers.

He came back predicting that Hot Rod would become a great pro player as well as a standout crowd attraction with his talent for the unusual.

Hundley, who leads the Mountaineers against NYU in part of a college double-header at Madison Square Garden tonight, scored 30 points while West Virginia crushed a better than adequate St. John's club 105-72.

More than that, with the home crowd luring him on, Hot Rod threw a couple hook shots on free throw attempts, tossed in a handful of other "clowning" maneuvers, and stopped once or twice to Spring Hill Junior boys defeated Saratoga 34 to 31 with Wade Applegate dropping in 15 and Lane Garner 10. Paul Crawford scored 13 and Bill McJunkins 12 for Saratoga. This win placed Spring Hill in the Junior boys finals to be played at 6:45 p. m. Saturday night. Their opponent will be the winner of the Guernsey-Blevins game to be played Friday night at 6:30 p. m.

Nina Adams led the Guernsey Senior girls to a 35 to 24 victory over Spring Hill by scoring 33 points. With forwards Trudy Daugherty and Peggy Terry playing an outstanding floor game and feeding the ball into Adams, Guernsey took an early lead and led 21 to 7 at the half. Pauline Bobo scored 6, Shirley Stark and Gail Calo 5 for Spring Hill. Guernsey's victory placed them in the finals Saturday night at 7:45 p. m. Their opposition will be the winner of tonight's game between Blevins and Saratoga.

Blevins Senior boys racked up a 42 to 23 triumph over Guernsey with Norman Hugg looping 15 and Jesse Barber 11. Tommy Lockard was high for Guernsey with 15. The Hornets' win brackets them opposite Saratoga Friday night at 7:30 p. m.

Thursday night's game pair Guernsey and Spring Hill Junior girls at 6:30; Blevins and Saratoga Senior girls at 7:30 and Spring Hill vs the Hope "B" team at 8:30 p. m. in the Senior boys bracket. Winner of tonight's Senior boys game puts them in the finals Saturday night at 9 p. m.

Officials of the tournament are Billy Mitchell and Delton Calhoun. Timekeeper is Jess Tinsley and tournament scorekeeper is Nyllwon Eskridge.

Finds Fault With Super TV Production

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) "Mayerling" was one of the most ambitious and expensive television productions of the current season. Produced by Showcase (NBC-TV) lavished extraordinary attention on this meticulous period piece about the ill-fated love affair in the unhappy House of Hapsburg.

It starred a great dramatic actress, Audrey Hepburn, in her television debut. It offered a superb cast of players. Anatole Litvak, a noted motion picture director, brought his unquestioned talents to bear on the production, possibly by TV director Kirk Browning. The entire effort reportedly cost about $500,000.

So it is with regret that one viewer must report it failed to move or convince him as drama. What was the trouble?

Miss Hepburn, performing as sensitively and looking as beautiful as ever, found her role subdued by the weighty production placed on the fragile love affair which was the substance of "Mayerling." Mel Ferrer, as the Archduke Rudolph, failed to attract much sympathy. An excellent cast of such actors as Raymond Massey, Basil Sydney, Diana Wynyard and Judith Evelyn had little opportunity to perform.

Perhaps in these times a basic fault with "Mayerling" is in the story itself. We are asked to sympathize with two people: a frustrated crown prince and an innocent girl who loves him and whom he loves.

These days a dramatist, as well as an actor, must labor very hard and skillfully to arouse the sympathy and interest his commoners in the unhappiness of a poor young rich prince. The Archduke Rudolph had, for example, fine clothes, palaces to live in, all the booze he wanted to drink, beautiful women making love to him. Now how, the commander asks, could he be tragic?

To the commoner the Archduke seems rather weak and neurotic. Nevertheless, you feel sorry for him when he falls in love with the beautiful and innocent young girl. Ang you feel sorry for the girl. But pity doesn't make tragedy. Neither character passes through any great crisis except the frustration of their love for each other.

Putting a Premium in Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Good putting was at a premium as the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament opened today on the straight and easy El Rio Country Club course.

The sponsors' ire was softened somewhat when a few more top golfers showed up yesterday, but nine of last year's top money winners are still missing.

After the Professional Golfers Association was accused of a "breach Over" for not providing top players, Gene Littleno in from San Diego, Doug Ford returned from his sick one's bedside in New York and Fred Hawkins came from El Paso, Tex.

Take over leading the West Virginia cheering section.

Combine his basketball and clowning abilities. Lapchick says, and some pro team will have a potential gold mine in a year or

A Little Man Is Nation's Top Scorer

By PETE PEDERSEN
Of The Associated Press

Little Men, take heart! You too can be an athletic whiz like Chet Forte of Columbia, the nation's leading college basketball scorer.

All you need is an unerring shot from anywhere on the court, a wrong-foot jump shot and a variety of driving layups. hat, plus a total disregard of towering opponents.

Forte plumped home 36 points as his Lions lost to Yale 103-87 last night. This gave the 5-foot-9 pre-med senior 451 points in 15 games for an average of 30.07. Seven-foot Will Chamberlain of Kansas has a 29.78 average for 14 games.

Despite Forte, Yale used 31-point shooting by Larry Downs and 30-points from John Lee to squelch the Lions and become runner-up to Princeton in the Ivy League at 5-1. Columbia 4-2 dropped to third. Elsewhere, Louisville, rated sixth nationally in the Associated Press poll, lost its second straight. Little Morehead, the nation's leading rebounders, applied the boot 85-74. It was rebounding, particularly that of the Eagles' Steve Hamilton, that undid Louisville. Hamilton grabbed 27 of Morehead's 58 rebounds and topped the scoring 35 points.

Another of the nation's elite, 14th-ranked Canisius, was tumbled 81-80 by Marquette, Warrior soph Mike Mran helped apply the crusher with 34 points.

Conference battling was on the light side. Penn beat Brown 67-66 in the Ivy League. Princeton's Ivy rulers suffered first-period shakes but calmed to overtake Rutgers 69-53.

Dayton went to a double-over-time before quelling Miami of Ohio 68-67 and Temple foiled a Villanova comeback to beat the Wildcats 81-72.

Ann Blyth to Play Life of Helen Morgan

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) A lot of eyebrows were raised when it was announced that Ann Blyth would star in the life of Helen Morgan.

"Impossible!" exclaimed the brow-lifters. After all, Helen Morgan was a symbol of the '20s, a hard-drinking, fast-living party gal. And Ann—well Ann is just about the epitome of sweetness.

But these unbelievers forgot Ann's first grown-up role. That was in "Mildred Pierce." She played a cold-blooded murderer the daughter of Joan Crawford.

Michael Curtis remembered. He directed "Mildred Pierce" and he's now doing "The Helen Morgan Story." He knew Ann could handle it.

I discovered proof on the movie set. Ann was dolled up in a form-fitting showgirl costume and sang a jazzy number with two other girls in a Chicago dive. Then she was instructed by the joint's owner to circulate among the customers to drum up drinks.

After the take, Ann returned to her serene self and discussed the role in her dressing room.

"It's really exciting," she enthused. "It's so stimulating to be doing a role that really offers you some challenges."

She admitted she has had few chances at meaty roles since "Mildred Pierce," which was 12 years ago. She did that one on loanout from Universal.

"I had some strong roles at Universal, but they didn't attract much notice," she said. "One of them was 'Another Part of the Forest,' which I thought was a fine picture. But nobody saw it."

Strikers May Not Get Any Compensation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today tentatively approved the barring of strikers from employment compensation benefits.

The amendment to add this provision to a pending bill was passed by a bare majority of 51-49.

The bill, designed primarily for the increase in compensation benefits, must be acted on.

The amendment was proposed by Rep. Gayle Windsor of Pulaski County, who recalled the 1935 Little Rock bus strike when strikers claimed unemployment compensation.

The amendment was opposed by Rep. Jim Slack of Clark County, author of the bill.

Slack said Windsor has introduced two bills of his own to effect change he sought to place in Slack's bill by amendment. Slack said he probably would vote for one of the Windsor bills but objected to having his own bill amended.

The Clark representative said the bill was drawn by the Employment Security Division Advisory Committee and asked that it be left unchanged.

The 1955 Legislature passed a bill that would deny strikers unemployment compensation but the measure was vetoed by Gov. W. A. Faubus.

5000 Join Soil Bank Plan in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The first year of the reserve soil bank program yielded agreements with more than 5,000 Arkansas cotton farmers and hundreds of rice farmers.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office said yesterday that cotton farming agreements covered nearly 50,000 acres and rice contracts included more than 10,000 acres.

The soil bank program operates on a first come, first served basis. The reserve phase of the program recompenses farmers for leaving certain land out of production.

Arab Group Would Try a Black List

CAIRO (AP) — Blacklisting 14 Western firms, presumably for doing business with Israel, has been proposed by the Boycott Committee of the nine-nation Arab League.

The firms include three American companies.

There was no indication from the Arab capitals whether the governments would go along with the proposal.

An Arab League spokesman said the committee recommendation

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1936 by Frank Gruber. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: The first killing and first lynching take place in Pawnee City the day the first herd of Texas cattle arrives. Joe Jagger meets Artie Puffpuff, from whom he bought the land for the city, now the town drunkard. Joe tosses him a dollar but Artie loses it in the dust of the street.

Puffpuff was still sifting the dust through his fingers when Chad Morgan entered the Longhorn Saloon and said to the bartender, "There's an old man out in the middle of the street. He's on his hands and knees."

"Old Puffpuff," said the bartender, "he's been here for an hour ago."

"Give him a bottle of whiskey," said Morgan.

The bartender frowned, hesitated. "Who's going to pay for it?" "Who owns this saloon?" asked Morgan coldly.

"Mr. Jagger," the bartender winced. "I guess you and Mr. Jagger."

Morgan went outside and stood on the sidewalk a moment before turning right and going to a store on which was a sign: Jagger & Morgan, Real Estate. A wagon loaded high with furniture, boxes and barrels stood in front of the real-estate office and inside Morgan found a blond giant, a big-boned woman and two half-grown boys.

The clerk who took care of the office saw Morgan with relief.

"Ah, Mr. Morgan, I didn't know you'd be here."

There was no indication from the Arab capitals whether the governments would go along with the proposal.

what to tell this man. He says he wants to buy a farm and I told him we didn't exactly deal in farm lands."

"Why not?" asked Morgan. He turned to the farmer. "How big a farm did you have in mind?"

"I think maybe 80 acres," the farmer replied in a heavily accented tone. "If the price be right, maybe 160 acre."

"How much money have you got?"

"I sell my farm in Wisconsin. I have only maybe $5,000."

Morgan pursed up his lips. "To tell you the truth, Mr. . . ."

"Turnboom, Axel Turnboom."

"Mr. Turnboom, I don't know if this is good farm land."

"Axel Turnboom nodded. 'I am hard worker. I make crop grow. My boys they big enough to help. I like buy farm.'"

"All right," said Morgan. "I'll sell you 160 acres." He hesitated.

"You'll need money to put in your crops and maybe you'll have to dig a well or two to carry you through the summer. Suppose we say $10 an acre."

The farmer showed surprise. "Only $10 an acre?"

"Yes, we want good people around here."

A few minutes later he left the real-estate office. A Texas man sat easily on a horse by the hitch-rail.

"Hello, Morgan."

The man was Tom Alder.

Morgan said, "Getting a little close to home, aren't you?"

Alder dismounted and tied his horse to the tie rail. "I'm all right in Kansas." He hesitated briefly. "Seems to me I heard somebody say you started this with $25,000."

"We spent $75,000."

Morgan, walking toward the hotel with bent head, was aware of a horse galloping swiftly behind him.

Then a voice yelled. "Hey — Yankee!"

Cass Simcoe, still wearing Levi's and a man's shirt, her hair only a little longer than it had been the previous fall in Texas, bound down from her bronc, Morgan chuckled. "Hi, Reb!"

He extended his hand. She hesitated only briefly, then caught it. Her hand was small, but calloused. There was strength in the grip she gave him. In the way she clung to his hand.

"So you made it," Morgan said. "Well, what do you think of Kansas?"

She shot a swift look around. "I haven't seen much of it yet. Just got in. Dad and the men are still crossing the river. I — I rode ahead." She wrinkled her nose. "You call this a town?"

"Of course," said Morgan. "Come — come to the hotel with me. I want you to meet my fiancée."

"Your what?"

"The woman I'm going to marry."

Cass drew her roughened hand out of his grip. "Your never told me you had a sweetheart."

"I didn't have one last fall," replied Morgan.

Cass Simcoe uttered a sudden, rather high-pitched laugh. "Well, good for you. Yank! I'm going to get married myself. . . one of these days."

"Of course you are. Your Texas men aren't going to let you roam about much longer. One of them will be putting his brand on you soon," Morgan chuckled.

"The trouble with Texas men," flashed Cass, "is that they're all so poor." Her hand shot out and caught his arm in a hard grip. "Is it really true — can we sell our herd for hard money?"

"Every herd that's come in so far has sold readily."

"For how much? We — we've got 1,500 head, but they lost a lot of weight on the way."

"The price will depend on the condition of the steers, perhaps your father may prefer to graze them awhile before selling."

"No. He said we'd sell as fast as we could and — and go home. We met some cattlemen going home. They said they'd gotten over $25 per steer, but you know how men are. Brag-talk."

"They didn't lie, Cass. Some steers have sold for as high as $30, but if your cattle's poorly — well, you may have to take $20."

"For each steer? Golly, 20 times 15, that's — that's $30,000." She winced. "There isn't that much money in all the world!"

U. S. Controls Seen to Lick Inflation

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President

Eisenhower said today the government will have to move in with some form of inflation controls if business and labor fail to deal with the problem adequately on a voluntary basis.

The President at a news conference did not specify what type of controls he may have in mind.

Eisenhower also said that he believes Israel has a decent respect for mankind and will comply with United Nations demands that it withdraw its troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

As for whether the United States would go along if there is a U.N. call for economic sanctions against Israel, Eisenhower made no direct reply to a question on that point. But he did say the United States is committed to support the U. N.

Israel so far has refused to comply with U. N. demands that it withdraw its forces from all of Egypt.

On the matter of inflation, Eisenhower was reminded that in his January State of the Union message he called on both business and labor leaders to cooperate in a voluntary drive to check spiraling prices.

Today, Eisenhower said that when he brought up that point in his message he had in mind the long-term best interest of every one concerned.

He went on to say that if there is no adequate voluntary effort, and inflation continues, the government would have to move in with some kind of controls.

Doesn't Want in Custody of Marines

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An Arkansas Marine, accused of participating in an attempted blackmail racket, declined to post $500 bail yesterday because "I'd be in the Marine's custody then. I don't want that."

Cpl. Bobbie James McDaniel, 20, of Rogers, Ark. was placed in county jail here. He was charged with offering to sell a faked honorable service certificate to another serviceman and also with possession of marijuana on government property.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Howard Harris said McDaniel, who was a guard at the Navy's Camp Elliot retraining command for prisoners, and a prisoner attempted the blackmail on a second prisoner.

Harris said the first prisoner was given the faked certificate to offer to the second prisoner for $15. McDaniel, he related, then threatened both men with ex-posure and promised the prisoner victim of the plot immunity for payment of $150.

On March 5, 1920, the mockingbird was adopted as the State's official bird by Act of Legislature.

John Gould Fletcher, an outstanding poet, was born in Little Rock in 1886.
